SUPPORTING LOCAL BUSINESS During Uncertain Times

Simple Ask: Wear a Mask

CHESTER COUNTY

It is no secret that the COVID-19 pandemic has impacted the economy on a national scale. A study by the Brookings Institution estimates that small business revenue in the U.S. is down twenty percent since January 2020.<sup>1</sup> According to unemployment data from the PA Department of Labor & Industry, which has been analyzed by Restore Chester County, the industry hit hardest by the pandemic is retail. Restaurants, manufacturing, healthcare, and office settings have also seen high unemployment filings.<sup>2</sup> These are some of Upper Uwchlan Township's most prominent economic drivers. During these uncertain times, it is crucial to remember the impact of local business on the spirit of our community.

What can you do?

When making purchasing and dining decisions, think of our local businesses first! Find and follow local retailers and restaurants on social media to stay up to date on their safety practices, and, importantly, do them the courtesy of following those practices when you shop, visit, or dine.

You might have seen a familiar slogan in shop and restaurant windows: "Simple Ask: Wear a Mask." This county-wide campaign to encourage mask wearing in local businesses began in October.

The signage is a helpful reminder that we are all in this together and that the little things we can do, like wearing a mask, can make a big difference to our local business community. By doing our part to prevent further spread of the virus, we can expedite the safe re-opening of the local economy.

Restore Chester County - Business Resources

The Restore Chester County program was established by the County Commissioners to centralize resources for businesses and residents as we work to safely reopen and restore the communities we love. Best practices and guidelines from federal and local government agencies can be found at www.restorechestercounty.org.

★ EPICUREAN GARAGE

Thank you!

2020 Business of the Year

At their January meeting, the Upper Uwchlan Township Board of Supervisors was pleased to present the 2020 Business of the Year Award to Epicurean Garage. The Board plans to continue this award annually, seeking to acknowledge the impact of our local businesses and business owners.

The owners and employees of Epicurean Garage were recognized for their support and commitment to the Upper Uwchlan Township community and residents. With their #GarageGivesBack initiative, the restaurant has found unique and innovative ways to support organizations that fight food insecurity and homelessness, as well as other local businesses in the community. They used their social platform to elevate the causes of those in need, organized gift card buys for other local restaurants that were struggling due to COVID, and matched purchases at the Garage with donations to local organizations that serve the hungry.

During incredibly difficult times, the Garage stepped up to generously help many in need. Thank you and congratulations to Epicurean Garage for being the inaugural Upper Uwchlan Township Business of the Year.

From the Desk of the Township Manager:

Thank you for taking the time to read this newsletter. It is full of important information. In the fall I hoped for a mild winter, well I should have kept that to myself. The Township has been hit with numerous storms so far and the Public Works Department has done an outstanding job clearing the streets and making it safe for travel.

There are quite a few projects starting in the Township early in 2021. The Township is accepting proposals for the replacement of the Turf field at Fellowship Fields, which should be completed before summer. The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission has started a project to replace the Park Road bridge over the Turnpike. While this is not a Township project it will be of interest to most residents. Park Road will not be shut down during the project. It will be restricted to one lane for periods of time but never completely shut down. The project is estimated to take 18 months to complete.

Board of Supervisors and Township Boards and Commission meetings continue to be held through Zoom. If you would like to attend a meeting, please email me and I will send you the link to the meeting you wish to attend. My email is tscheivert@upperuwcylan-pa.gov.

Please contact me if there is anything that I can do to assist you in the future.

We're All in This Together

Do your part to prevent the spread of COVID-19

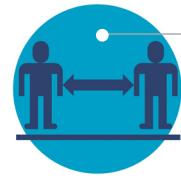

For over a year now, the COVID-19 pandemic has impacted our day to day lives. For those who have lost loved ones, life has been changed irreparably. More than 700 of those lost to the virus lived here in Chester County; as a community, we grieve with those who knew and loved them.

There's still a long road to recovery, but Upper Uwchlan Township and Chester County are committed to using and promoting all the tools available to keep one another safe. That includes all of these:

WEAR A MASK

According to the CDC, "COVID-19 spreads mainly from person to person through respiratory droplets produced when an infected person coughs, sneezes, talks, or raises their voice." Wear a multi-layer mask or cloth face covering that fits snugly over your mouth and nose whenever you are in public to help reduce the spread of the virus.

PRACTICE SOCIAL DISTANCING

Along with wearing a mask, social distancing can decrease community spread. The CDC advises that you "stay at least 6 feet (about 2 arms' length) from other people who are not from your household in both indoor and outdoor spaces." Avoid crowds, group gatherings, and poorly ventilated indoor spaces.

VACCINES

It is the goal of Chester County to get residents vaccinated against the virus as quickly as possible. Vaccine supplies remain limited, and distribution is being conducted in a phased approach. Visit chesco.org/coronavirus for the latest information about registration.

We all must do our part to keep each other safe, prevent infection, support our local economy, and work toward recovery. You can find information about COVID-19 at upperuwchlan-pa.gov/coronavirus.

At that site are links to health resources, details about Township operations, and a log of the Township announcements related to the virus.

Mental Health Resources

During this global pandemic, it is completely normal to feel stress, fear, and anxiety.

Know that there are mental health resources available for all Pennsylvanians. It's OK to ask for help! Please reach out if you need support.

Please visit the Department of Health website at www.dhs.pa.gov.

DID YOU KNOW?

Philadelphia was one of the hotspots during the 1918 Spanish Flu epidemic.

Much different than today, you couldn't get a doctor to make a house call as the dial telephone did not yet exist. Cities like Philadelphia were grisly scenes as corpses piled up in the streets.

Biological Indicators of Water Quality

Examining the quality of a stream or waterway can be done in many ways and with different levels of technicality. However, you don't necessarily need high end, precision sensors, or a warehouse full of expensive equipment to know how healthy a stream in your own backyard might be. A glimpse into the biodiversity of the critters that inhabit a fresh water ecosystem can reveal abundant information about the quality of the water and the overall status of the stream.

Streams in Chester County and across the globe are teeming with life. Some of that life is seen clear as day, while some hides under rocks or might even be too small to see with the naked eye. Groups of organisms that we can see and use as indicators of water quality include amphibians, macroinvertebrates, and fishes. While not true for every ecosystem, generally if you find a stream to be inhabited by many different types of species, chances are it's in fairly good health. Certain groups of animals can tell you more than others based on their living requirements and tolerances. For example, salamanders and other amphibians are unique in that they have the novel ability to breathe through their skin. This is known as cutaneous respiration. While cutaneous respiration allows them to thrive in specialized environments, it also makes them very susceptible to absorbing toxins through their skin. It would not be uncommon to find an absence of salamanders or even deceased ones in heavily polluted streams or immediately following a toxic spill event. On another note, certain species of mayflies have specific tolerances for dissolved oxygen. They can only be found in pristine streams where persistently high levels of dissolved oxygen readily flows over their feather-like gills. Individual indicators such as these provide a glimpse into the overall quality of stream.

When water quality professionals examine biological indicators, often the community as a whole is assessed. Different species are assigned certain categories or weights based on their tolerances, or special living parameters. Many metrics are measured to determine a score that correlates with a certain degree of water quality. But you don't need fancy metrics or calculations to learn about your stream's health. Anyone with a few good identification books and an interest to explore can research the biodiversity in a nearby stream. So next time you are out and about on a hike, or walking your dog by a stream, take a second and flip over a rock or peer into a clear shallow pool. You may be surprised by what you discover.
